WORKING

“My top priorities are helping working families get ahead and providing better opportunities for our children.”

— Assemblyman N. Nick Perry

FOR YOU

Assemblyman N. Nick Perry
 passed laws giving children better opportunities to learn while making life more affordable for our families

Education from start to finish

- Expanded access to quality, affordable child care to help parents balance work and family
- Secured $600 million over 2 years for full-day UPK to help give kids a solid start to their education
- Increased NYC school aid by $435 million to help ensure every student gets a first-class education
- Reformed Common Core to address parents' concerns and alleviate the stress on students
- A $2 billion bond act to help replace classroom trailers with permanent space, construct new pre-K classrooms and improve technology
- Making college more affordable by increasing funding for the Tuition Assistance Program (TAP) and other college opportunity programs

Much-needed tax relief

- $350 tax rebate checks for families with children
- Cut an energy tax on residents and businesses, saving $600 million over 3 years
- Expanded the NY Youth Works program, providing up to $5,000 in tax credits for businesses that hire unemployed youth, ages 16-24
- Tax credits for renters and co-op and condo owners through a "circuit breaker," which bases taxes on ability to pay
- Expanded the Senior Citizen Rent Increase Exemption (SCRIE) program to help seniors afford to stay in their homes
