

NEW YORK STATE'S NEW PAID FAMILY LEAVE

Assemblymember
Dan Quart

New York State's new paid family leave policy is the most comprehensive and expansive in the nation.

This policy is an enormous win for all New York workers.

Through months of complex budget negotiations, I worked to make sure that the needs of everyday New Yorkers were not forgotten. No parent should have to choose between caring for their child and their job, and no one should have to worry about keeping their job while a loved one is in poor health.

Soon, no New Yorker will have to.

Paid family leave is just one of the many reforms I have pursued in Albany for working New Yorkers. I will never stop fighting to make sure your family gets every benefit they deserve.
