Having a Say in State Government

During the Legislative Session, the New York State Assembly will be introducing and debating important issues that will directly impact the lives of residents living in the 129th Assembly District. To best represent your interests, I am asking that you take the time to share with me your opinions on some of the important matters that will be discussed in Albany over the next few months.

There are two ways for you to participate: (1). Complete the 2018 Constituent Survey; and, (2). Attend one of the scheduled "Community Information Nights" which are scheduled for February and March.

The 2018 Constituent Survey was mailed to every household in my Legislative District last month. It features 10 questions ranging from the proposed Tip Credit to continuing meetings regarding shared municipal services to the Compassionate Care Act. If you did not receive one, the survey is available online at: nyassembly.gov/mem/William-B-Magnarelli. My office will be collecting these surveys until March 9th. My staff has been busy tallying the survey responses that we have already received and for many of the issues, my constituents' opinions have begun to emerge. If possible, please add your opinion to this important endeavor.

Also, each year I hold four Community Information Nights throughout the 129th Assembly District so that residents have the opportunity to ask questions and voice their opinions and concerns directly with me. I sincerely feel that meeting directly with my constituents and listening to their concerns and priorities is the best way for me to represent you in Albany. This year, at each of these meetings, I will present the 2018 Constituent Survey questions which will be the basis of our discussions. There is also an opportunity for constituents to ask questions and provide concerns or comments regarding other issues they feel are important. I am holding Community Information Nights to hear directly from you. See this year's schedule below.

My office handles hundreds of constituent calls per year regarding numerous issues including: education, health, environment, jobs, economic development, senior issues, housing, children and families, workers compensation, veteran affairs, agriculture, mental health and accessing state agencies. In each case, my staff responded, logged the results of the interaction and briefed me on each matter.

If you have any questions or comments on this, or any other state issue, or if you would like to be added to my e-mail list to receive my monthly e-newsletter, please contact my office as follows: by mail: 333 E. Washington St. Room 840, Syracuse, NY 13202; by e-mail:

magnarw@nyassembly.gov; or by phone: (315) 428-9651. I look forward to seeing you at one of these Community Information Nights.

Recycling Old Electronics

Assemblyman Magnarelli sponsored a Free Electronics Recycling Event on Jan. 27 at the New York State Fairgrounds. The event attracted thousands of people who wanted to properly dispose of out-of-date electronics. More than 30 volunteers from the Solvay Central School District Track and Field Team were on hand to help unload vehicles. The team will receive a portion of the proceeds from SunnKing.

AccessCNY opened the house on James St. in Syracuse, for up to 6 people, who need help but not emergency care. Individuals can stay for up to 7 days. The home is run by peer support staff who help the guests create recovery plans. The service is currently free, but the program may eventually seek health insurance reimbursement.

State funds and a grant from the Central New York Care Collaborative were used to create a partnership to improve and coordinate health care in the region.

Welcoming St. Joseph Health Care Centers' New CEO

Assemblyman Magnarelli met with Leslie Paul Luke, the new President and CEO of St. Joseph's Health and Hospital Center. Luke replaced Kathryn Ruscitto who retired last year.

Luke is the 14th President of the 148-year-old Hospital and the first one hired since St. Joe's was taken over in 2015 by Trinity Health, a Michigan-based Catholic health system that operates more than 90 hospitals in 22 states.
