

Assemblyman Patrick Burke

passed a state budget that invests in Buffalo public schools

“Our schools need the resources and programs that will help our students thrive. That’s why I fought for historic investments in this year’s state budget and ensured local schools got their fair share of funding.”

Assemblyman Patrick Burke

Securing a bright future for Buffalo students

In the 2022-23 state budget, Assemblyman Burke helped provide:

- More than $847.6 million in total aid for the Buffalo Public School District
- A $34.9 million increase in Foundation Aid for a total of $602.4 million
- Almost $16.6 million for universal pre-K programs

The budget also includes $100 million statewide over two years for the Recover from COVID Schools Program, which provides matching funds for enhanced education and mental health support programs.
