The enacted 2023-24 New York State Budget provides funding for workforce development programs that facilitate long-term business development and economic growth to determine their overall effectiveness and to ensure that such programs are coordinated to support equitable and inclusive policies. The Department of Economic Development (DED) and Empire State Development (ESD) administer programs such as RESTORE-NY, FAST-NY Shovel-Ready Grants, Excelsior Jobs Tax Credit, Linked Deposit Loan Program, Green CHIPS, workforce development as well as numerous investment and loan funds. Entities such as Technology Development Organizations, Manufacturing Extension Partnership, Centers of Excellence, Centers for Advanced Technology, Entrepreneurial Assistance Centers, Regional Economic Development Councils, Innovation Hot Spots/Certified Incubators, and numerous other entities are supported by DED and ESD.

The Assembly Standing Committee on Economic Development, Job Creation, Commerce and Industry and the Assembly Standing Committee on Small Business are seeking testimony as to the effectiveness of the State funded economic development programs as it relates to promoting an equitable and inclusive economy and ensuring that such programs are meeting the needs of businesses, the workforce, and communities historically or currently disproportionately impacted by economic pressures.
