Rain Barrels for Queens Homeowners!

I was happy to partner with the City Department of Environmental Protection to host my fourth free rain barrel giveaway for local residents! Together we distributed 240 barrels along with installation kits, instructions, and the DEP Homeowner's Guide to Flood Preparedness. Residents who were unable to register can call my office to leave contact information and be notified of next year's giveaway.

Urging Repeal of STAR Program Changes

As you may know, earlier in the year I expressed opposition to a proposal that would convert STAR from a property tax deduction to a personal income tax credit. While the program remains the same for existing homeowners, changes were enacted in this year's budget that place additional financial burdens on first-time homeowners and those looking to move. In response, I am sponsoring legislation to repeal the transition into a personal income tax credit so that future applicants can receive the same benefits and immediate savings as those currently enrolled.

Celebrating Asian American and Pacific Islander Heritage Month

At the Queens Library at Fresh Meadows I had the pleasure of hosting my Fourth Annual Asian American and Pacific Islander Heritage Month Celebration! Together with my colleagues, we honored community members whose contributions help shape the growing, vibrant borough that is Queens.

Informing Local Seniors

Captain Paul Valerga of the 107th Precinct and I stopped by the SelfHelp Fresh Meadows Senior Center to speak to seniors about scam prevention tips. We are urging everyone in the community to use caution and to be suspicious of callers looking for immediate payment. As always, my office is available to assist if you or someone you know has any questions about scam prevention.

Visiting Jack'n Jill School II Pre-K

On the last day of round two pre-K applications for Fall 2016, Deputy Mayor Richard Buery and I visited Jack'n Jill School II's pre-K program. It's always great to see programs that thrive to support community needs and create positive classroom culture based on family collaboration and community partnership!
