Greetings--

Earlier this week, I joined over 100 members of the Bangladeshi community in my district for a discussion about the Port Authority incident and its aftermath. At the meeting, we all agreed that the individual who committed this act deserves our condemnation and punishment. We had a wide ranging conversation about making sure that Bangladeshi and Muslim New Yorkers are not maligned because of the acts of this one individual and that as community we stand together against any form of violence and hatred.

I am proud to represent the largest Bangladeshi population in the Borough of Brooklyn, and one of the largest Muslim populations. I know many of the men, women and children of this community and they, like all of my other constituents condemn this act and wish only to live in a city that affords all of us safety and prosperity.

We are lucky that our police officers and other first responders were on the scene immediately and were able to mitigate the situation quickly. I am thankful that only a few New Yorkers were injured and that those injuries were not life threatening. I hope that we take this moment and remain vigilant that these actions will not divide us, make us change our lives, nor encourage us to embrace cynicism so that all New Yorkers can be proud to share this community.

Celebrating the first night of Hanukkah in Boro Park

On Tuesday evening, it was my pleasure to join the leadership of Community Board 12, the FDNY, other colleagues in government, and many happy community members to celebrate the first night of Hanukkah. This is a wonderful time of year to celebrate and reflect on all that for which we are grateful.

See you around the neighborhood,

Bobby

P.S. On January 3rd, Governor Cuomo will make his state of the state address in Albany. I expect that in his speech he will lay out in broad strokes the state's fiscal health, plans for the MTA, our schools, and outline how we're going to respond to possible budget cuts and tax changes coming out of Washington. This will kick off three intense months of negotiation between the Governor and Legislature about the New York State Budget. I look forward to hearing your thoughts on the budget as I keep you updated throughout the process.
