News from Albany Supporting Students with Disabilities

On Monday, February 26th I was honored to host over 500 college students, advocates, and education leaders at the State Capitol for Student Empowerment Day to support funding to help college students with disabilities. This funding can be used for crucial services including academic coaching; modified experiential learning opportunities; and accessibility in classrooms which will help the over 90,000 students with disabilities in our state get the support they need to finish college.
