Since day one in Albany, Assemblyman Brian Miller has worked to save our family farms.

As a former apple grower, Brian knows that the “Farm Laborers Fair Labor Practices Act” will harm farmers who are struggling to get by. After speaking with local farmers and farm workers, and attending various public forums around the state, Brian debated against the bill and voted NO on the “Farm Laborers Fair Labor Practices Act” (A.8419).

BRIAN VOTED AGAINST:

- ▼ Expensive government mandates that could cripple small family-run farms
- ▼ Mandating when laborers can work – handcuffing farmers when they need help the most

A BETTER WAY:

- ▲ Expand agricultural property tax credits
- ▲ Protect farmland from overdevelopment
- ▲ Decrease regulations on small farms
